

ORDERS

To be observed

FRIENDLY

Of Reputable Tradesmen and Others,

at the Sign of the THREE and kept by a

SOCIETY,

meeting at JOHN HEINEMAN'S,

TUNS in PETERBOROUGH.

Begun October 26, 1767.

I.
THE Members of this Society shall hold their Meetings at the House above-named, the First Monday in every Month, in the Evening, from Lady-Day to Michaelmas, from Seven to Nine o'Clock; and from Michaelmas to Lady-Day, from Six to Eight o'Clock: And at every Meeting each Member shall pay Three-pence to be spent in Ale, and also One Shilling to the Box belonging to the Society, which, for the safe keeping of the Money put therein, shall have three different Locks, the Keys whereof shall be kept as mentioned in a following Article.

II.

THIS Society shall not change their Place of Meeting without lawful Occasion, nor without the Consent of the Majority of the Members.

III.

THE Majority of the Members present at any Meeting may if they think convenient, put off the next Meeting one Week longer than the usual Time.

IV.

THE Master of the House where this Society meet, shall provide for them a large and convenient Room, having a Fire and Candles therein, in the Associating Hours, from Michaelmas to Lady-Day, into which Room he shall not admit any other Company during the Time of the Society's Meeting, under the Forfeiture of Six-pence to the Box, except Leave be first granted by the Stewards.

V.

THIS Society shall have a Father chosen by the Majority thereof, who shall continue in that Office during Life. Mr. Henry Cole, is the present Father so chosen, who, with the consent of such Majority, has appointed William English his Deputy.

VI.

TWO Stewards shall be chosen to serve every three Months in Rotation. Except they be Honorary Members, or Members out of Town, then the next shall serve in Rotation, who with the Father or his Deputy, shall keep the Keys of the Society's Box: And the Stewards so chosen, shall receive all Monies payable by the Members, and shall be accountable to the Society for the same.

VII.

THE Stewards, or some sufficient Deputy, shall make Minutes of all the Proceedings of the Society at their several Meetings, in a Book for that Purpose. And every Member chosen Steward, who shall refuse to execute that Office, shall forfeit Two Shillings to the Box, or be excluded. And for the Neglect of any one Night's Duty shall forfeit Eight-pence for every such neglect.

VIII.

NEW Members may be elected into this Society at a Meeting, the Majority thereof: But no Person shall be elected without being previously recommended in Writing by one or more of the Society, at the Meeting held the Month before the Time of Election.

IX.

XIV.
IF any Person shall come into the Society Room disguised in Liquor, or shall propose any Kind of Gaming, or quarrel, he shall forfeit Six-pence, or be excluded. Also for every Oath or Curse any Member shall utter, he shall forfeit Two-pence, or be excluded. And Members holding any contentious Debate about Religion or State Affairs, shall be subject to such Forfeiture as the Stewards shall award.

XV.
If Silence be not observed and kept at the third Call of either of the Stewards, the Member offending shall forfeit, Two-pence.

XVI.
NO Person shall call for Tobacco or Liquor during the associating Hours, but with the Leave of one of the Stewards, under the Forfeiture of Two-pence. And if any more Liquor be brought in than allowed by the First Article, the Overplus shall be paid for at the Stewards Charge.

XVII.
IF any Member of this Society, who was or shall be elected whilst under the Age of Forty Years, shall, at any Time after he has been One Year a Member, become sick or lame, so that he cannot work for the Space of One Week, he shall, if he claims it, receive weekly out of the Box of this Society Seven Shillings during such Sicknes or Lamenes, for One Year, or any shorter Time. And if such Sicknes or Lamenes continues longer than a Year, he shall, after that Time, receive Five Shillings per Week, so long as he may be under such Infirmity.

XVIII.
ANY Member who shall live to the Age of Sixty Years, if at that Time he be incapable of getting his Bread, tho' neither sick nor lame, shall, if he claims it, receive from the Box weekly Three Shillings and Six pence, and if he remains incapable to the Age of Seventy Years he shall then receive Four Shillings per Week, to be paid by the Stewards, or such greater weekly allowance as shall be thought necessary for his Support, by a Committee, to be named by the Father and Stewards on a Quarter-Night.

XIX.
ANY Member, who at the Time of his Election was above the Age of Forty Years, shall have the like Benefit from the Box as a Member elected under Forty Years of Age, but under this Restriction, that he shall not receive any Benefit until he has been Twenty Years in the Society. If any of the Ten Members who founded this Society were above Forty Years of Age at the Time of founding it, they shall not be subject to such Restriction, but shall be entitled to the same Benefit from the Box as if they had then been under that Age.

XX.
EVERY sick, or lame, or aged Member claiming the Benefit of the Box, shall give Notice thereof to the Stewards for the Time being: who, with the Father of the Society or his Deputy, shall forthwith visit such Member; and if they find he has a just claim to any Benefit from the Box, one of the Stewards shall daily give or send him the same.

XXI.

been Twenty Years a Contributor, shall at his Decease have Two Pounds allowed out of the Box towards his funeral Charges; and immediately after his Funeral, Four Pounds more shall be paid to his Widow or Children if he leaves any, or such greater Sum as a Committee may adjudge necessary for their Relief, in Proportion to the Time the deceased had been a Member of the Society: the Committee to be named by the Father and Stewards as in the 18th Article. But if he dies unmarried, the above Allowance shall be made towards his funeral charges, and he shall have Liberty to bequeath the Legacy of four Pounds to whom he pleafeth, his Will being by himself declared before two or more credible Witnesses, one thereof being a Member of this Society, and upon their Depositions such Legacy shall immediately be paid out of the Society Box.

XXV.

EVERY Member of this Society shall attend the Funeral of any deceased Member, and spend Two-pence each at the said House in drink, and to be sold to them by the Person at whose House the Society constantly meet, or by some other Victualler being a Member of this Society. And from there to attend the laid House where the Deceased is, with mourning Gloves and Hatbands; Such Attendance shall not be excused except on Account of such great Distance, or of Busines, Sicknes, or any other very important Occasion, as shall be judged a reasonable Excuse by the Majority of the Society; but every absent Member, whose Excuse shall not be so adjudged a reasonable one, shall forfeit Two Shillings to the Box, or be excluded.

XXVI.

IN Case any Member of this Society should die a violent Death (which God forbid) requiring the Inquisition of a Coroner; if such Inquest find the Case to be Self-murder, the Funeral of such Member shall not be attended, nor anything allowed by these Articles, for his Burial, Widow or Children. But a Committee may be chosen, to take into Consideration the Necessity of allowing some Relief, to his innocent Family, who may be ill-prepared to meet the accumulated Distress of Poverty, and the Frowns of a Benevolent Society, of which the deceased had long been a Member; otherwise the former Part of this Article will greatly mistake its object, by punishing Parties who are totally innocent of the Crime it means to punish.

XXVII.

IF any one or more of the Members of this Society should be drawn to serve in the Militia, the Money towards hiring a Substitute or Substitutes, shall be paid out of the Society Box.

XXVIII.

THERE shall be a Meeting of this Society annually, on the First Monday in the New Year, at which every Member shall attend, and dine with the Father and Stewards, or forfeit One Shilling and Sixpence. And every Member shall be allowed One Shilling and Sixpence for Dinner and Ale, to be paid out of the Society Box; and at such annual Meeting, the Members shall attend Divine Service, and hear a Sermon, if at the Meeting next preceding two thirds of the Members present shall agree to order such Attendance, and give Notice thereof to the absent Members.

XXIX.

Begun October 26, 1767.

1.
THE Members of this Society shall hold their Meetings at the House above-named, the First Monday in every Month, in the Evening, from Lady-Day to Michaelmas, from Seven to Nine o'Clock: and from Michaelmas to Lady-Day, from Six to Eight o'Clock: And at every Meeting each Member shall pay Three-pence to be spent in Ale, and also One Shilling to the Box belonging to the Society, which, for the safe keeping of the Money put therein, shall have three different Locks, the Keys whereof shall be kept as mentioned in a following Article.

II.
THIS Society shall not change their Place of Meeting without lawful Occasion, nor without the Consent of the Majority of the Members.

III.
THE Majority of the Members present at any Meeting may if they think convenient, put off the next Meeting one Week longer than the usual Time.

IV.
THE Master of the House where this Society meet, shall provide for them a large and convenient Room, having a Fire and Candles therein, in the Associating Hours, from Michaelmas to Lady-Day, into which Room he shall not admit any other Company during the Time of the Society's Meeting, under the Forfeiture of Six-pence to the Box, except Leave be first granted by the Stewards.

V.
THIS Society shall have a Father chosen by the Majority thereof, who shall continue in that Office during Life. Mr. Henry Cole, is the present Father so chosen, who, with the consent of such Majority, has appointed William English his Deputy.

VI.
TWO Stewards shall be chosen to serve every three Months in Rotation. Except they be Honorary Members, or Members out of Town, then the next shall serve in Rotation, who with the Father or his Deputy, shall keep the Keys of the Society's Box: And the Stewards so chosen, shall receive all Monies payable by the Members, and shall be accountable to the Society for the same.

VII.
THE Stewards, or some sufficient Deputy, shall make Minutes of all the Proceedings of the Society at their several Meetings, in a Book for that Purpose. And every Member chosen Steward, who shall refuse to execute that Office, shall forfeit Two Shillings to the Box, or be excluded. And for the Neglect of any one Night's Duty shall forfeit Eight-pence for every such neglect.

VIII.
NEW Members may be elected into this Society at a Meeting by the Majority thereof: But no Person shall be elected without being previously recommended in Writing by one or more of the Society, at the Meeting held the Month before the Time of Election.

IX.
NO Person diseased or distempered shall be admitted a Member of this Society; and if it shall appear that any Member was, at his admission, diseased or distempered, without having made the Society acquainted with the same, he shall be for ever excluded: And if it shall appear that the Member who recommended him, knew of the same, he shall be excluded also.

X.
PERSONS who have been, or shall be convicted upon lawful Trial of Petit Larceny, Felony, or any other base Crime, shall be incapable of being elected Members of this Society; and if elected before such Trial, they shall, after such Conviction, be immediately excluded.

XI.
THERE shall not at any one Time be more than One Hundred and Three Members belonging to this Society.

XII.
EVERY Person elected a Member of this Society, shall, over and above the Payments mentioned in the First Article, pay One Pound One Shilling to the Box at the Time of his Admission, and Six-pence for the printed Orders of this Society, or be excluded.

XIII.
ONCE in three Months, when the new Stewards shall be chosen, every Member of this Society shall pay to such Stewards all Arrears and Forfeitures, or be excluded.

XIV.
IF any Person shall come into the Society Room disguised in Liquor, or shall propose any Kind of Gaming, or quarrel, he shall forfeit Six-pence, or be excluded. Also for every Oath or Curse any Member shall utter, he shall forfeit Two-pence, or be excluded. And Members holding any contentious Debate about Religion or State Affairs, shall be subject to such Forfeiture as the Stewards shall award.

XV.
If Silence be not observed and kept at the third Call of either of the Stewards, the Member offending shall forfeit Two-pence.

XVI.
NO Person shall call for Tobacco or Liquor during the associating Hours, but with the Leave of one of the Stewards, under the Forfeiture of Two-pence. And if any more Liquor be brought in than allowed by the First Article, the Overplus shall be paid for at the Stewards Charge.

XVII.
IF any Member of this Society, who was or shall be elected whilst under the Age of Forty Years, shall, at any Time after he has been One Year a Member, become sick or lame, so that he cannot work for the Space of One Week, he shall, if he claims it, receive weekly out of the Box of this Society Seven Shillings during such Sicknes or Lamenes, for One Year, or any shorter Time. And if such Sicknes or Lamenes continues longer than a Year, he shall, after that Time, receive Five Shillings per Week, so long as he may be under such Infirmit.

XVIII.
ANY Member who shall live to the Age of Sixty Years, if at that Time he be incapable of getting his Bread, tho' neither sick nor lame, he shall, if he claims it, receive from the Box weekly Three Shillings and Six pence, and if he remains incapable to the Age of Seventy Years he shall then receive Four Shillings per Week, to be paid by the Stewards, or such greater weekly allowance as shall be thought necessary for his Support, by a Committee, to be named by the Father and Stewards on a Quarter-Night.

XIX.
ANY Member, who at the Time of his Election was above the Age of Forty Years, shall have the like Benefit from the Box as a Member elected under Forty Years of Age, but under this Restriction, that he shall not receive any Benefit until he has been Twenty Years in the Society. If any of the Ten Members who founded this Society were above Forty Years of Age at the Time of founding it, they shall not be subject to such Restriction, but shall be entitled to the same Benefit from the Box as if they had then been under that Age.

XX.
EVERY sick, or lame, or aged Member claiming the Benefit of the Box, shall give Notice thereof to the Stewards for the Time being; who, with the Father of the Society or his Deputy, shall forthwith visit such Member; and if they find he has a just claim to any Benefit from the Box, one of the Stewards shall duly give or send him the same.

XXI.
BUT if any Member shall through Drunkeness, or Debauchery, or by any other unlawful Way, as fighting, &c, contract any Sicknes or Lamenes, being adjudged to have done so by the Majority of the Society, he shall receive no Benefit from the Box. And if he get the Foul Disease, call'd The French Pox, he shall for ever be excluded from this Society.

XXII.
IF any Member of this Society shall fall sick or lame when from his own Home, he shall send a Certificate thereof monthly to the Father or one of the Stewards, signed by the Officers of the Parish where such Sicknes or Lamenes may happen to him and then he shall be allowed the same Benefit from the Box as if he were at Home, otherwise he shall not receive any Benefit therefrom.

XXIII.
IF any Member shall reproach, taunt, or reflect upon any other Member (either in or out of the Society Room) for receiving the Benefit of the Box, he shall forfeit for every Offence Two Shillings to the Box, or be excluded. And every Member disclosing out of the Society Room any Secret relating to the Society, shall also forfeit Two Shillings.

XXIV.
EVERY Member elected, under the Age of Forty Years, having been One Year a Contributor to the Box; and every Member elected, when upwards of Forty Years of Age, having been Twenty Years a Contributor, shall at his Decease have Two Pounds allowed out of the Box towards his funeral Charges; and immediately after his Funeral, Four Pounds more shall be paid to his Widow or Children if he leaves any, or such greater Sum as a Committee may adjudge necessary for their Relief, in Proportion to the Time the deceased had been a Member of the Society: the Committee to be named by the Father and Stewards as in the 18th Article. But if he dies unmarried, the above Allowance shall be made towards his funeral charges, and he shall have Liberty to bequeath the Legacy of four Pounds to whom he pleafeth, his Will being by himself declared before two or more credible Witnesses, one thereof being a Member of this Society, and upon their Depositions such Legacy shall immediately be paid out of the Society Box.

XXV.

EVERY Member of this Society shall attend the Funeral of any deceased Member, and spend Two-pence each at the said House in drink, and to be sold to them by the Person at whose House the Society constantly meet, or by some other Victualler being a Member of this Society. And from there to attend the said House where the Deceased is, with mourning Gloves and Hatbands; Such Attendance shall not be excused except on Account of such great Distance, or of Busines, Sicknes, or any other very important Occasion, as shall be judged a reasonable Excuse by the Majority of the Society; but every absent Member, whose Excuse shall not be so adjudged a reasonable one, shall forfeit Two Shillings to the Box, or be excluded.

XXVI.

IN Case any Member of this Society should die a violent Death (which God forbid) requiring the Inquisition of a Coroner; if such Inquest find the Case to be Self-murder, the Funeral of such Member shall not be attended, nor anything allowed by these Articles, for his Burial, Widow or Children. But a Committee may be chosen, to take into Consideration the Necessity of allowing some Relief, to his innocent Family, who may be ill-prepared to meet the accumulated Distress of Poverty, and the Frowns of a Benevolent Society, of which the deceased had long been a Member; otherwise the former Part of this Article will greatly mistake its object, by punishing Parties who are totally innocent of the Crime it means to punish.

XXVII.

IF any one or more of the Members of this Society should be drawn to serve in the Militia, the Money towards hiring a Substitute or Substitutes, shall be paid out of the Society Box.

XXVIII.

THERE shall be a Meeting of this Society annually, on the First Monday in the New Year, at which every Member shall attend, and dine with the Father and Stewards, or forfeit One Shilling and Sixpence, And every Member shall be allowed One Shilling and Sixpence for Dinner and Ale, to be paid out of the Society Box; and at such annual Meeting, the Members shall attend Divine Service, and hear a Sermon, if at the Meeting next preceding two thirds of the Members present shall agree to order such Attendance, and give Notice thereof to the absent Members.

XXIX.

THIS Society shall not be broke-up or dissolved by dividing the Money belonging thereto, and ceasing to meet, so long as five Members are willing to pay to the Box, and whosoever shall propose the breaking up of the Society, shall be excluded.

XXX.

MEMBERS receiving Benefit from the Box, shall be exempt from the Attendance and Payments required of other Members.

XXXI.

IF any Member be hit by a Mad-dog he shall if required have seven Shillings allowed him for a Weeks pay, and One Guinea paid to him towards his Expences of going to Salt Water, to be paid out of the Box.

XXXII.

ALL Letters to the Father or Stewards of this Society, upon any Busines relating to the Club, must be sent Post-paid, or they will not be attended to, nor answere.

XXXIII.

THESE Orders shall not be altered without the Consent of the Majority of the Society at a Quarterly Meeting; at such a Meeting, with such Consent, new Orders may be made; and Part of the Box Money, when the Whole shall exceed Forty-five Pounds, may be put out at Interest in Trust for the Benefit of the Society.

GOD prosper this SOCIETY. Amen.

